THE PEGASUS

What is education?

The main purpose of any school is, of course, education and so whether a school is or is not fulfilling its purpose can only be decided when the nature of education is known. Essentially, education may be classed as development of those qualities which prepare one for a job and those which lead to a fuller life for the educated individual. Vocational education at secondary level may itself consist of technical training, of training for a career on the land or of preparation for a professional career. In the latter then, the aim of education is to obtain certificates certifying varying degrees of knowledge or ability. But the more important aspect of education is that which broadens the outlook. It is this side of education which will considerably influence the amount life will hold for the scholar as it will influence his usefulness in his community. This aspect may be developed both by academic learning and by participation in outside activities. The educated product of a secondary school should thus be equipped either to earn a living or to take the tertiary training necessary for this but also be in a position where he can appreciate mankind's achievements and problems and, if possible, play a useful part in the development of mankind. If his life at school has been spent merely acquiring the skills that are necessary for some vocation, he will not be educated and his life will be the poorer for it. Obviously the process of education, be it purely vocational or be it the development of the mind is only beginning at secondary school. But secondary school must provide the basis for all future education, the relatively formal education of the school being the foundation for the education provided by experience.

To what extent then does the College educate? There is, perhaps, a tendency for vocational training to be neglected. This need is of course partially satisfied by such subjects as Agriculture and Commerce and by preparation for the Public and Matriculation examinations. But other bodies can concentrate on vocational training; it is the job of the College to teach its scholars to appreciate the arts and to teach Collegians to play a constructive part in the community. In the latter aspect, the College certainly succeeds. There are opportunities for future leaders to lead and for that majority which will be led, to be led. The boarding and new day houses provide numerous occasions for co-operation, for practising community spirit. But the worthy citizen is not necessarily an educated man. Yet there is a danger that the Geelong College may fail to educate in the other, more subjective sense. Specialization has led necessarily to the adoption of a rather narrow course by intending scientists, and non-scientists find themselves equally bedevilled by the task of gaining the qualifications necessary for entrance to high, non-scientific education. There is, it may seem, not time for Collegians to be educated. This of course is not the case, for although the curriculum may not include enough education in the Arts, the school provides opportunities for cultural education. There are the House of Music and the Art Studio with their facilities for those who are interested to find out what culture is all about; there are such activities as lunch hour music recitals and the Library Talks which deal with many aspects of the Arts. Yet less than 10% of the school takes advantage of these facilities. Learning for both scientist and non-scientist would on the whole seem to have but one end—the attainment of good results at the end of the year. There is of course no reason why a person must be educated except that when he has the opportunity to be, it is a pity for him not to take it. Education will teach a man how to use his eight hours for work; it will teach him to use eight hours for sleep; it may teach him to earn eight "quid" a day; it will also teach him how to enjoy his eight hours of play.

KEITH JOHN BIRDSEY

It is with great regret that we record the death of Keith Birdsey on Monday, 22nd October, 1962. Keith entered the College in the Kindergarten in 1951. This year he was in Form VA and was a member of McArthur House.

The following are the words spoken by the Principal at Morning Assembly on Tuesday, 23rd October:

This morning in our worship and prayers, let us remember Keith John Birdsey, who died yesterday after many weeks of serious illness.

Keith is well known to most of you, for he was at this College from the beginning of his school days. Moreover, both his father and his uncle were also here, and continued their close association with the College as loyal and very active Old Collegians. We will always remember Keith as a keen, interested and active member of the College community, who always seemed to do his best at whatever he undertook. He made many friends. Without being an outstandingly successful boy in any particular way, he was, nevertheless just the sort of boy who contributes most to the welfare of his fellows.

We, who know the loving nature of God through the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ, do not mourn for the dead, for we know that they are in our Father's care. Our sorrow and our sympathy are for those for whom the joy of his personal presence is no longer possible, for his parents, for his sister, and, I suppose, for ourselves, for we will all feel the loss of his cheerful company.

But this morning, we are chiefly concerned to give thanks for a life well lived, for the privilege so many of us have had in knowing so well such a boy as Keith. And, as we give thanks, we will remember in our prayers all who need God's comfort at this time.

Let us stand for a moment in silent prayer.

"The Eternal God is our refuge and underneath are the everlasting arms".

50-YEAR-OLD FLAG SYMBOLISES COMMONWEALTH LINK

A feature of Commonwealth Day celebrations in Campbell College, Belfast grammar school, over the last thirty years has been the fact that an Australian flag has always flown from the school flag-staff. This flag symbolises a fifty-year old link between Campbell College and Geelong College in Australia.

The link was forged in 1912 between brothers—a Mr. McFarland, who was at that time headmaster of Campbell, and Sir John McFarland, who was chairman of the Council of Geelong College. In that year the Australian flag was presented to Campbell by Geelong.

The links were strengthened during the Second World War when former pupils of the two colleges met in a Japanese prisoner-of-war Camp in Malaya. The 1956 celebrations in Campbell were attended by the then Headmaster of Geelong (Dr. M. A. Buntine).

The Australian flag was flown as usual at this year's ceremony in Campbell College. The celebrations were attended by the combined cadet forces of the college and, as is customary, a commemorative tree was planted.

COUNCIL NOTES

The Council has continued to meet monthly at the College, and to receive at these meetings reports from the Principal, and from the Building and Finance Committees. A Grounds Committee has also been set up to make recommendations for the development of the gardens and grounds. During the year the Rev. A. D. Hallam and Mr. P. McCallum resigned from the Council, and were replaced by the Rev. Kenneth MacLean and Mr. David Adam.

Some of the matters dealt with by the Council during this year are:

1. Preparatory School.

The Council authorized the Principal to advertise throughout Australia for candidates for the Headmastership of the Preparatory School, which was to become vacant as from the 1st January next, through the retirement of Mr. L. J. Campbell. There were twenty-four applicants, many of them of very high quality. The Council was glad, however, to confirm the Principal's recommendation, following a careful examination, of Mr. Ian R. Watson, from our own staff, for the appointment.

In recognition of Mr. Campbell's long and valuable service, it has been decided that the Kindergarten will be re-named "Campbell House".

During the year it has been possible to purchase an additional block of land adjacent to the Kindergarten, which will provide a larger playing area.

The new north-west wing of the Preparatory School was dedicated and opened at the beginning of the year. The Hall has been named the Sir Horace Robertson Memorial Hall, in recognition of the late Sir Horace's many contributions to the College as an Old Collegian and member of the Council, including a generous bequest from his estate.

Another valuable donation towards the Preparatory School development will make possible a "C. R. Roper Memorial".

Early in the year contracts were let for the construction of a new south-western section, to contain changing rooms, dining hall, with dormitories above, at a cost of approximately £44,000. The ground floor is to be completed for use in 1963.

2. Roll and House.

Arrangements for the purchase of "Mossgiel", in Noble Street, were completed with the assistance of the Old Geelong Collegians' Association, which has generously lent the sum of £11,000 to the College to make this purchase possible. Alterations to the house were carried out during first term, and Rolland House (Housemaster and forty-five boys) took possession at the beginning of second term. Since then, the Council has purchased some additional land adjacent to the new Rolland House which would be large enough for three tennis courts, though a master plan for this area has not yet been completed.

3. Senior School.

The space vacated by Rolland House has been used for a variety of purposes. A small flat has been constructed for a married Housemaster of Senior House. The administrative area has been extended to provide an office for the Administrative Assistant, a room for the day Housemasters, and a meeting room for the Council and other committees. Senior House has taken over some of the former Rolland dormitories. This, in turn, has made it possible for Room A to be used as a Senior House recreation room, and the former recreation room to become an extension of the School Library. An Archives Room is to be established in the former Senior House pantry.

Work on these alterations is proceeding, and it is hoped that they will be complete by February, 1963.

Plans have also been completed for the building of a married Housemaster's flat at Warrinn during January.

All these developments are in accordance with a general master plan, upon which the Council has been working for some time.

It is anticipated that the major building activity during 1963' will be the construction of a new Science Block, for which generous assistance has been offered by the Industrial Fund for the Advancement of Scientific Education in Schools. Plans are already well advanced. The complete block, which would be placed just south of the main quadrangle, is expected to cost approximately £35,000.

4. General Maintenance.

The Maintenance staff now consists of a foreman carpenter, a second carpenter, a handyman and two painters. The work of this group has been greatly assisted by the addition of some machinery in the maintenance workshop in Stinton Avenue. This staff has been fully occupied throughout the year, and still has a long programme of planned maintenance. Whenever alterations and additions are made to the College, the maintenance department carries out as much of the work as possible, to keep outside contracts to a minimum.

Provision has been made in the budget for 1963 for the replacement of a number of beds and mattresses, and this process will be continued for a number of years.

5. General.

Amongst a great many matters of general administration, two which have received considerable attention are the introduction of a fees insurance scheme to protect parents from loss through absences, and a general review of the fire and other insurances carried by the College.

PREPARATORY SCHOOL HEADMASTERSHIP

The Principal of the Geelong College (Mr. P. N. Thwaites) has announced the appointment of Mr. Ian R. Watson to become Headmaster of the Geelong College Preparatory School, a? from the 1st January next. The position will fall vacant through the retirement of Mr. L. J. Campbell, who has been Headmaster since 1931.

There has been considerable interest in this appointment, as the Preparatory School, which accommodates three hundred boys, including sixty boarders, has recently moved to a new set of modern buildings on a fifty-acre site overlooking Corio Bay and the Barwon river valley.,

Mr. Watson was selected from a list of twenty-four applicants from all parts of Australia. He is forty-five, and is married with a family of five sons and three daughters. After training and experience in the State Education Department, he joined the staff of the Preparatory School in 1940, but in 1941 enlisted with the Royal Australian Air Force, and saw five years of active flying operations. His training took him to Canada, and he was stationed for some time in Darwin. He flew with the well-known 2 Squadron, and was at one stage Squadron Navigation Officer. He also served as Senior Navigation Instructor at Mount Gambier. At the end of the war, he held the rank of Squadron Leader, and had been notified that his next appointment would be as Wing Commander. However, in 1946 he returned to the Preparatory School staff, and has served there since.

He has been active in the school's sporting activity, having himself played in country cricket and football when he was a young man.

In recent years, he has been the Senior Assistant Master at the School, and during Mr. Campbell's recent illness has been Acting Headmaster. As such, he has had much of the responsibility of settling the school into its new buildings, and in encouraging the boys and their parents to help with the development of the new site. A further section of the buildings is at present under construction.

HEAD PREFECT'S REPORT

Progress means change, and over the past year this College has undergone some of the changes necessary to meet the demands of this second half of the twentieth century in which we live.

In almost all fields of school activity are these changes evident. In matters of dress, the wearing of sports-coats to all week-day meals and morning assembly was introduced this year. This measure has not only improved the standard of dress in the school but has produced an increasing pride in both the school and its uniform. The need to distinguish prefects from the rest of the school has been satisfied by the introduction of green waistcoats for the prefects.

But in the most important aspect of school life—the religious sphere, there have been very considerable changes. It has long been difficult to preserve a religious atmosphere in the multi-purpose Morrison Hall and to remedy this the morning assembly is now being held three times a week in St. David's Church. The assembly in the hall the remaining two days has been greatly improved by the introduction of a sung introit and the abolition of the welter of announcements. The transfer of College boarders from St. George's Church to St. David's has been a further step towards increasing College participation in Parish life.

The value of the third-form activity groups; the musical venture of "Noye's Fludde" and the many other clubs and societies cannot be too much emphasized in such a school as this, for not only do they teach boys to use constructively their spare-time, but they furnish their minds with interests, capable of developing their individuality.

On the sporting side both hockey and golf have become officially recognized sports. This change, or rather introduction, has provided many boys with the opportunity of developing such sporting talents as they have which may not lie in the traditionally accepted games. This, of course, is good, as more boys are able to take an active interest in sport.

The success of the First XVIII and the First XI this year has set a standard at which the future teams should aim.

To fulfil the academic demands of producing educated men, the school must needs continually search for an even broader scholastic programme. Both the instruction in Social Studies and Current Affairs at Matriculation level were introduced on the academic front for the first time, this year, and plans to extend the School Library have already got underway. Such changes as these, are greatly significant and highly valuable if the College is to provide the utmost in educational training for its members.

Change is met by different reactions. In Geelong College I believe most boys have welcomed these changes and have appreciated the fact that they are innovations for their benefit.

There is, however, a small group of malcontents who do not like these changes, do not wish to understand them and do not wish to take part in the school's progress: in short, who show none of that quality known to Collegians as "School Spirit". Fortunately they are only a very small minority.

I find the traditional mode of conclusion the most appropriate. A school such as The Geelong College is more than just a training ground for academics. It is a society on a small scale and as such its members live together in close communion with one another. If, in such a society, a member takes full advantage of community living then the manifold benefits of tolerance, unselfishness, and appreciation of mankind will be inevitable. This College is privileged to be a Church school and we believe dependent, for the better, on the grace and inspiration of the Holy Ghost. Not only then have we a responsibility to our School itself, but also to Almighty God.

—Stephen J. Miles.

The appeal, for past copies of "The Pegasus," which was launched in June has progressed most favourably. Two sets are now almost complete back to 1923 and one of these is largely completed to 1909. There is also a large number of copies spread over the years 1936 to the present. This is a very good start in the plan to collect five additional sets; but it is in the coming six months that the "missing links" must be found if the plan is to be fulfilled.

The master-in-charge of "The Pegasus" (Mr. A. D. Mahar) would still be pleased to hear from Old Boys or friends of the College who possess any of these copies and would be prepared to donate them to help complete these sets. Even one of those copies mentioned above is valuable to the College—valuable enough to make the effort of sending it worth while.

The College is already most grateful to the following 'who have generously provided the copies so far received:

Messrs. A. T. Tait, S. Warby, A. R. David, J. D. Douglas, W. E. Long, T. Henderson, K. W. Nicolson, B. R. Keith, The Reverend, E. C. McLean and the Preparatory School Library (D. Wardle).

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

MUSIC

East year we were sorry to see Miss Nancy Bonney leave us; she had given eighteen years of devoted service to the boys and music of the College. Miss Bonney was replaced by Mr. G. McFerran, a graduate of the Melbourne Conservatorium. Another addition to the Music Staff has been Mr. J. Mawson, who has taken over the position of bandmaster and also has several students.

The first occasion on which the College music came under the public eye as it were, was on April 18th when a group of trebles from the Prep, sang with the Geelong Choral Society in "St. Matthew Passion." The atmosphere and spiritual significance of the Easter Service at St. David's was greatly augmented by the choir's anthem "The Stife is O'er" arranged by Eey.

On May 4th, a trip to Mozart's "Don Giovanni" in Melbourne was arranged to broaden the experience and knowledge in the field of music. The performance had numerous merits; nevertheless it was variously received by the sixty odd in the party.

With Second Term also came the preparation for House Music and on the 20th July, the final of the House Music Competitions. There was a great deal of variety in both the type and the standard of the music performed. It was however, not difficult to predict the winners and our congratulations go to Calvert who under the baton of J. E. Davies, gave a consistent performance of quite high standard. We were fortunate in having as adjudicator Dr. Nickson of the Conservatorium of Music who showed his long experience by weighing very well the qualities of the performances.

Some thirty boys have been attending the A.B.C. Celebrity Concerts, in the Plaza Theatre, which have been of their usual high standard.

As a lighter sideline in the music activities a group of about forty went to Melbourne to see the two Gilbert and Sullivan operettas "Pirates of Penzance" and "Trial by Jury" which were appreciated and enjoyed by all.

The Brass Final of the South Street, Competitions was attended by a small group of the more enthusiastic brass players.

On 2nd November, a play and listen concert was arranged in which all boys who had not previously given a solo performance had a chance of revealing their hidden talents.

We have only had two concerts this year. The first was the violinist, Harry Hutchins, deputy leader of the Victorian Symphony Orchestra and the second was the notable vocalist Alan Eddy who gave us items varying from opera to vaudeville.

At present the Second, Third and Fourth Forms are preparing music for a Christmas Concert as the Carol Service will be sung by the Prep, boys this year. A section of the orchestra will also perform works which were started during the first term.

The Chapel Choir has provided an introit for every assembly in the Hall. The repertoire, although not large at first, has been expanding and the standard has been improving, being greatly augmented by the introits from G. Thalben-Balle, Book of Introits.

We give our good wishes to Air. Lowe who will be leaving for England at the end of November to study abroad for several months.

"Noye's Fludde".

The music activities of this year were climaxed by the three night performance of Britten's "Noye's Fludde". These performances culminated six months of practice. Fortunately because of the enormous cast and the capacity to divide it up into several groups, the practices (apart from the soloists) did not come too frequently.

"Noye's Fludde" is an ideal play for a school such as ours to perform. Firstly, its huge cast of 160 means that many boys, whether as soloists, as stage assistants, as choristers or as instrumentalists, have an opportunity to show their talents. Secondly, the music is comparatively straight forward, thus almost any boy can have a direct part in it. Thirdly, it is both exciting and interesting for everyone from the cymbals or wind machine in the orchestra, to the shipbuilders or rabbits in the ark. Needless to add, it is fast moving and full of action. Fourthly, the music is good, its polished modernity has a certain exotic or weird quality which indicates Britten at his best. Fifthly, it is an important modernization of ancient, ecclesiastical folklore and as such, perhaps makes us aware that our religion like our music, must, to be able to bear its weight, be brought up to date if it is to be effective in this modern world.

Air. Lester and Miss Blowes took the leading roles as Noye and Mrs. Noye. Two such experienced singers did much to stabilize the standard of the performance as both filled their parts admirably: they made excellent character studies. The part of the Voice of God was taken by Mr. Mackie, who with the help of the speaker system gave many of us a jolt when he spoke to the sinful. The parts of the sons, Jaffet, Sem and Ham, were played by D. E. Davies, P. L. Dixon (I. Penrose took the part on Thursday night), and N. Kidd, all of whom suited their parts well and sang musically. Their wives, R. Baxter, J. Cox, and C. McKenzie, cannot be left out when writing a musical appreciation of the play. The gossips, six girls, added much to the flavour of the play in their captivating song. Although the individual music is simple, to co-ordinate the various branches—the choirs, the soloists, the orchestra, the stage assistants and the organ and carillon group—is more difficult. It is therefore due to the conductor, Mr. Martin, that the performances showed so much cohesion. Without this cohesion it would not have been possible to bring the music out. Nevertheless to have it is only half the battle: Mr. Martin managed to give the performance a music interpretation and kept a suitable tempo throughout. The crescendo leading up to the storm and the diminuendo that followed it had a startling affect.

The pathetic cries of the animals in the ark in the "Eternal Father, Strong to Save", arrangement made it one of the most moving episodes of the play. The entrance and exit of the animals in procession down and up the nave of the Church also had great effect. One cannot pass over the musical qualities of the play without mentioning the 'cello and the treble recorder solo which showed Britten in his most creative mood: the solos were lyrically beautiful episodes of rare, mystical exquisiteness.

The people behind the scenes, Mr. Webb and the H.O.G. boys must be commended on their excellent efforts in the scenery, and general lighting effects. The props., and masks were contrived in a masterly manner and added considerably to the atmosphere and effect of the play. The naivete, the very simplicity of the props, suggested the unmistakable mediaeval flavour. We were also grateful to the members of the orchestra.

The overall performance can only be judged by those who saw it as a whole. Judging from most of the comments, the performance was impressive, often moving, even spectacular, of good quality musically and a good stage production.

We were indeed fortunate in having the use of St. George's Church for the practices and performances and owe a debt of gratitude to the Minister and Session.

Band.

The Band commenced this year with a large number of experienced members. They were aided by boys from the brass classes of last year who had shown promise. As a result the Band has increased in numbers from twenty-six to twenty-eight. Mr. Mawsoir our new bandmaster, soon had us in shape for the Commonwealth Youth Sunday March.

In the second term, the Band played at the P.F.A. function at Anglesea to mark the shifting of the Burnside P.F.A. Camp to a new location. The next major event in the year was the annual Cadet Camp at Scrub Hill, Puckapunyal. The Band spent a day in camp preparing for the Sunday Church Parade. After this, the Band did very little playing for the rest of the camp, most boys suffering from cracked lips. Most of camp was spent shooting, watching demonstrations, drilling and bivouacking. After Camp all time was spent on preparation for the Passing Out Parade. After the Passing Out Cadet activities ceased. Rehearsals have continued for the Band's final performance for 1962 on Speech Day. Practices have been held on Monday lunch times and Thursdays during Cadets. It is apparent that if the Band is to improve its drill, rifle drill will have to be cut out to provide more time for actual Band drill.

LIBRARY

One of the most prominent developments this year has been the unprecedented extent to which the Library has been used. We found that the increased use was especially evident at the upper end of the school. Undoubtedly this has been greatly augmented by the books which were lent to the Sixth Form Library. This selection contained more mature and advanced books.

Along with the increased use, the Library has become harder to run and the work has become considerably greater. This made all the more evident the need to expand. Fortunately, because of Senior House's evacuation of their sitting room we have been able to take over this large room which is so conveniently situated next to the old library. The fiction, periodicals and several other sections will be moved into this extension next year leaving the old Library with the major reference sections. This will greatly alleviate the pressure on the Old Library. Due to the exodus of Senior House we have also been able to acquire the old pantry and half the corridor outside which has been walled off for use as an archives room.

We have increased the number of periodicals which will be shown to greater advantage in the new racks when the extension is put into use next year. New books have been coming to the Library, at a considerable rate and it must be noticed that a considerable proportion of these have been Australian books.

We are indebted to the following who have given donations of books and periodicals to the Library:—Sir Francis Rolland, Rev. A. D. Hallam, St. George's Church, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Moreton, Mr. C. Cameron, Mr. A. Austin Gray, W. Canning and Company, State Electricity Commission. Mr. J. P. Matthews, Mr. A. N. Walls and the Headmaster.

Children's Book Council Meeting.

On the 16th October, one member of the Library Council and six members of the Senior Library Committee went to the Public Library in Melbourne for a lecture by Mrs. J. M. Young, the Librarian at "Fintona", on "Raising the Standard of Reading in Schools". Among the ideas presented which could be adapted for our library were: having a special reference library for matriculation students, assessing the literary merit of each new book by having several people read it, form an opinion, and designate their appraisal by some kind of a symbol inside the book, and finally by electing a few from each form to build up a balanced Library Committee.

Library Talks.

For second term, the Library Council decided that the Library talks should have a common thread instead of dealing with many diverse although interesting subjects. Accordingly the Monday talks were confined to Art, Education and Literature.

Mr. Webb delivered three talks on Art. His talks dealt mainly with aspects of modern art and did much to remove many of the prejudices which Collegians hold against this form of expression. In the series on Art, a fourth lecture was delivered by Mr. Finemore.

"Aspects of Education in Australia" was unfortunately only a two talk series. Mr. Davey outlined new methods of teaching and also such problems as the effect of the "population bulge" and the question of State aid to independent schools, the latter being particularly important in view of the Goulburn Catholic Schools' "strike".

The final topic, also consisting of two talks was "Australian Literature". Mr. Mahar who dealt with this concentrated particularly on poetry. Since few Collegians know onuch about Australian literature, these lectures proved valuable in enlightening us on the writing of our own country.

Regular talks were suspended during third term because of the disruptions caused by junior and senior examinations. There was however, one talk arranged by the Stamp Club in co-operation with the Library and those who attended were privileged to hear Mr. Webb give a talk on "Design of Australian Stamps", based on a lecture he had delivered to the Royal Victorian Philatelic Society. In the lecture, he explained the problems confronting stamp designers all over the world and how Australia had often failed to surmount those obstacles.

It is a pity that the average attendance at these talks has been only thirty for although some of the topics were perhaps formidable, they were dealt with very ably. This addition to the cultural life of the College is important for education certainly does not consist merely of passing examinations in specialized subjects—an educated man must know something of the finer sides of life.

DEBATING

This year, the meetings of the Debating Society have been attended, on the whole, only by fifth and sixth formers.

Mr. G. W. Young's place as master-in-charge has been taken by Mr. T. H. Reid, who has done the most valuable, but perhaps least appreciated, work of arranging debating fixtures and meetings.

Mackie internal debates, third form public speaking and two Warrinn debates have, to some extent, compensated for lack of participation in the Society by the lower forms, but for many, the opportunity to learn to express themselves, is being missed—which is a pity.

Inter-school Debating

To fulfil the society's aim of teaching people to speak confidently, as many people as possible were given the opportunity of speaking in inter-school debates. However, since the all-round standard of speaking was not high this year, we were unsuccessful in the three debates in which decisions were given. In the first debate, Messrs. R. N. Douglas, H. C. Forbes and A. G. Henderson failed, in a lively debate, to convince the adjudicator "That the Wright brothers should not have stayed on the ground".

The following week, Messrs. G. P. Bade, S. J. Miles and M. J. Knox, each speaking in inter-school competition for the first time, were likewise, unsuccessful in supporting the motion, "That Magellan did more for mankind than Gagarin". It is, however, noteworthy that the victors, the Geelong High School girls, met Belmont High School, winners of the third inter-school debate, in the final.

The best attended debate of the season was the final one in which Geelong College argued "That hire purchase creates a good way of life" against Belmont High School. Messrs. R. T. R. Russell, A.-J. McLeish and I. D. Corr spoke well, but the High School spoke better.

Geelong College was represented in the 3GL "Forum of Youth" competition, in a fifth form debate "That Australia is culturally backward". Messrs. R. T. R. Russell, A. J. McLeish and G. P. Bade were confident before the 3GL microphones, but no decision was given as to whether the College was or was not superior to the Geelong Grammar School team.

In the Geelong section of the "I speak for Australia" competition, R. N. Douglas spoke unsuccessfully on Australia in the next fifty years.

Internal Debating

There was little internal debating during second term, most of the weekly meetings being occupied supporting the tearr., non-participants enjoying themselves asking questions whilst awaiting the adjudicator's verdict. However, on two weeks there were impromptu talks with various results.

There was also a practice debate in which the topic of the Wright brothers leaving the ground was argued, and an evening of discussion, prepared and otherwise, on Australia in the next fifty years. We were also fortunate in having an A grade Geelong District debate held at the College.

The subject for this debate was "That the gag on Public Servants should be removed" and all those who witnessed this stimulating and exciting debate between some of Geelong's best debaters, were impressed. The debate also satisfied the need for showing a really high standard of debating, a standard at which members of the Debating Society should aim.

House Debating

This year, for the first time, there was an organized Inter-house debating competition. To encourage the emergence of as yet undiscovered Ciceros, participation was limited to fifth formers and below, provided they had not taken part in inter-school competition. However, no orators were discovered and a low standard of debating was the result. But by introducing more people to debating, it is hoped that there will be greater participation in the Society in future years.

In the preliminary rounds, McArthur lost to Morrison and Shannon to Calvert in debates adjudicated by Mr. Henderson. The final "That there is too much emphasis on sport in Geelong College" was unsuccessfully supported by Calvert in a spirited, if illogical debate before the whole school. This debate was adjudicated by Mr. G. Neilson.

On two evenings during the second term, the College debated against "The Hermitage", two debates being contested on each occasion. This introduced the Intermediate forms to debates for the first time and the society opportunity provided was keenly appreciated.

P.F.A.

The second half of the year has proved to be an interesting one for the P.F.A. We have been fortunate in hearing a number of very good speakers whose subjects, although often oi considerable importance, have often been ones of which most members are basically ignorant. Mr. Eggington, of the Mission for Seamen, spoke of the mission's work and how necessary it was. The policy of having people to speak on other denominations was continued the week following, when Mr. Lewis spoke of the history and organization of the Baptist Church, showing how it is similar in many respects to the Presbyterian Church. Mr. Mathews, the third speaker for second term, dealt with the topic of Symbols in Churches, explaining familiar but usually not understood inscriptions seen in churches.

During third term, two men spoke of their professions. Mr. Fielding, a Geelong solicitor, spoke of the Law as a profession, and the following week, Mr. Jamieson, Administrative Assistant to the Principal, spoke on accounting and administration as a Christian vocation.

Members themselves contributed to the P.F.A.

RAILWAY SOCIETY

This, our second year of operation, has been far more successful than our first was, membership rising to twenty-eight. Mr. Keith and Mr. Mackie have helped us during the year.

The major event for the year was the Beech Forest excursion in first term, and the magnitude of this tended to make some of our other outings seem very small. However, several very interesting trips were made. The Cement Works private line was visited (but not travelled on, owing to unfortunate circumstances), and an excursion was made to the 135 foot Moorabool viaduct. Two extremely interesting film lectures were given by Mr. Cullis of the Victorian Railways Traffic Branch. The subject of the first was "Victorian Railways Locomotives and Signalling", and the second was "Narrow Gauge Working in Victoria". Mr. Cullis has also announced that he will give a "History of the Victorian Railways" as first prize in a railway photograph competition which will end in February or March, 1963. Between these two talks, was a film night at which the most interesting film was entitled "Railroading with Radar".

Altogether a successful and enjoyable year was made of 1962 and it is hoped that 1963 will be even better.

in two Oxford Union debates, one on the subject "That the new Preparatory School Building be financed by a lottery", and the other, "That the introduction of myxamotosis into Australia was a crime". A discussion of State aid to Church schools showed that the majority of members favoured the retention of the present system.

The Question Box this year, was tackled by Mr. Thwaites and Mr. Davey, who answered the Thomases in the P.F.A. in such a way as to put an end to their doubting. There was a Bible Quiz for juniors during test examination week. Film strips shown dealt with the Church in Indonesia and with the Ministry of the Church.

At the annual badge dedication service, eighteen boys were presented with badges.

This year, Mr. K. R. Clayton, who has assisted Air. McLean since 1959, and conducted Bible Study groups on Sundays, leaves the College P.F.A. All members are grateful for his valuable assistance, as we are for that of Mr. McLean without whom there would be no P.F.A.

FILMS

The projection of films has been carried out this year by Ian McLean, David Gardner and Richard Dufty, assisted by many willing helpers. Mr. Mahar acted as master-in-charge of films.

The following films were screened on Saturday evenings and, despite occasional difficulties, they were thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended them—"Carry on Teacher", "The Caine Mutiny", "The Lavender Hill Mob", "A Song to Remember", "Oliver Twist", "Lucky Jim", "The Lady Vanishes", "The Colditz Story", "Father Brown Detective", and "Me and the Colonel". A welcome addition to the Saturday evening programme this year were films lent by the B.P., Shell, and A.M.I. companies. These films were usually concerned with one form of sport, especially various famous events in the motor car racing world.

On several occasions, the sixth form Geography class have seen films relevant to their course, while films on anatomy and sport have also been screened for the benefit of third form Physical Education classes.

The Junior Clubs had films as their form of activity on several Thursday afternoons. A most varied range of films, both of educational and entertainment value, were screened.

SOCIAL SERVICES

During the second and third terms the social services committee has again been active, bringing to the notice of the boys in the school through the medium of talks by committee members and outside speakers many worthy causes.

The Rev. Esmond New, an extraordinary man, told us of the plight of the natives in the New Hebrides: how just a few short years ago these natives were savages and how many of them are now Christians. He urged our support, both by our prayers and donations, for the dedicated men who are bringing "light" into this land of "darkness".

The Rev. M. Brewer from the British and Foreign Bible Society told us of its work in spreading the Gospel. He also presented the school with two silver badges to be pinned to the pennant we already possess. These badges were incised with the years 1961 and 1962, and were presented in recognition of our support in the annual appeals of each of those years.

DRAMA

Although no public performance was held this year, dramatic activities were pursued on two afternoons a week for most of the second school term. On each of these afternoons, a group of boys went by minibus to Morongo where play readings were held.

Several plays were read, and two, "Fools' Errand", an adaption of Chaucer's "Pardoner's Tale", and "Pictures on the Wall", a ghost story, were taken through a series of rehearsals on stage.

The Morongo girls provided afternoon tea at each visit and the boys appreciated both this and the use of the Gertrude Pratt Memorial Hall. Both boys and girls benefited by the opportunities provided for exercising their acting talents and also appeared to enjoy the social contact.

STAMP CLUB

This has been an outstanding year for the Club from the point of view of encouraging interest in philately. Perhaps the most essential factor in the success of such a club is the enthusiasm of its members, and with Mr. Lester's fatherly advice, we have now fifteen boys who can justly call themselves "philatelists". During first and second terms we had a number of Sunday afternoon meetings, and although we were dogged by bad luck in inviting outside speakers, swapping proved as popular as ever. For most of the year we had the much sought after exchange sheets at fortnightly lunch-time meetings, which proved to be of valuable assistance to those who wanted to sharpen their reflexes or be auctioneers. Two exhibitions were held this year, and it is hoped that next year we shall have more speakers, but still the same overall enthusiasm which existed this year.

EXPLORATION SOCIETY.

Tasmanian Trip

The need to "get away from it all" was this year satisfied for twenty boys, Mr. T. H. Reid and his brother, Mr. R. W. Reid, who had volunteered to come on very short notice, by a tour of Tasmania.

The first week or so was concerned mainly with hiking and walking; the second with sitting in the College and Morongo minibuses as we were driven by the two Mr. Reids, over the gravel roads which form Tasmania's road network.

Two four-day hikes had been planned; the first over Freycinet Peninsula sufficed.

Heavy packs combined with inexperience and steep hills tended to discourage as did an erratic water supply. Less than an inch of rain had fallen on Freycinet for the year, we had been informed on going off on our hike, and we had accordingly taken water in any available container, including billies precariously held in one hand as we scrambled over the range of hills which separated Freycinet Peninsula from the minibuses. However, of water supply there proved to be no absence, and although we broke the drought, our thoughts were not ones of rejoicing, particularly when our clothes saturated, we discovered that one of the minibuses would not be giving shelter until a flat tyre had been replaced.

However, despite adverse conditions, the scenery was worth seeing, particularly Wine Glass Bay, our camp site on two nights, acclaimed as being Tasmania's equivalent to the bays of tropical islands.

Before we were to sink to the ranks of tourists, we had a day hike (without 30 pound packs), to Cape Pillar, Australia's highest sheer cliff. The hike was unsuccessful in that we failed to find Cape Pillar. But this was not discovered until a map revealed that our ten mile walk had taken us to a cliff a mere 500 feet in height, half that of Cape Pillar.

As would be expected from any Tasmanian Touring party, we visited Port Arthur, to be rather appalled at the methods employed by a British Government for dealing even with the worst criminal elements that the Industrial Revolution could produce. Before leaving the environs of Port Arthur, we had a morning hike to Cape Raoul.

On Sunday, May 20th, we had started on our hike over Freycinet Peninsula. On Sunday, 27th, we camped in the changing rooms of the Sandy Bay football club, hiking days over.

Next morning a green and a grey minibus left Hobart for Queenstown. All was well (and cold and drizzly) until about thirty-five miles out of Queenstown, the Morongo bus refused to advance. Amazingly, rain had ceased, although Queenstown is among the wettest places in the state, but it was not until midnight that twenty-four Victorians were re-united in the Queenstown scouthall. The following day, the Mount Lyell mines and copper refining works were inspected in the morning, a visit being paid to Roseberry and the near ghost town of Zeehan.

From Queenstown, we travelled to Strahan and spent a day on a launch trip up Macquarie Harbour, and along the Gordon River. For the first time we gained some impression of the density of West Coast vegetation, views from the road being marred by the remains of a great fire in the 1890's. Overcast sky, water stained brown by tannic acid, and dull green vegetation, all made stories of cannibalism on the part of convicts escaped from the Macquarie Harbour prison, seem appropriate.

Camp was pitched that night in the Strahan memorial park. The last day of travelling was spent in the trip from Strahan to Launceston with detours to have a cursory inspection of the hydro-electric installations at Butler's Gorge, and Tarraleah. At about seven o'clock, we reached civilization, where we enjoyed the hospitality of the Smiths and the Bolgers, friends of Mr. Reid. Leaving early next morning, we arrived at Burnie with no more than minutes to spare for several of the Morongo minibus tyres had succumbed and one had to be replaced.

The plane trip from Burnie to Melbourne took place in ideal weather, and within ninety minutes of arriving at Burnie we had alighted at Melbourne.

The trip had been an enjoyable one. The hikes, if hard, left us all with a sense of accomplishment (and made us appreciate still more viewing the scenery of Tasmania from the comfort of a minibus). The planning that had been put into the trip by Mr. Reid, enabled us to obtain an excellent picture of Tasmania, from its rather ordinary East Coast, to the luxuriant West coast, the freak rock formations of Tasman peninsula and the superb views from the Tasmanian central highlands.

Those who went: Mr. T. H. Reid, Mr. R. W. Reid, D. J. H. Baker, D. Balfour, D. M. Birks, C. C. Blair, R. B. Crawshay, R. B. Davey, R. N. Douglas, A. G. Henderson, G. H. John, G. D. Johnstone, D. G. Leslie, I. A. R. McLean, A. J. McLeish, S. J. Miles, W. M. Patterson, D. G. Peace, J. W. Read, C. G. Seward, G. R. Synot, V. G. Watson.

Flinders Island Trip.

On May, 24th, a party of Geelong Collegians left Melbourne by DC 3 and one and a half hours after departure, Mr. Mackie and Mr. Macmillan, leaders of the party, met Dr. Dorwood from Monash University at the airport. After a slight delay, the party was ferried from the airport to Whitemark, capital of Flinder's Island. After giving the town (population about 200) a quick glance over, most of the party headed for a store to buy supplies. At about 11.30 a.m., an ancient bus arrived and proceeded to ferry us all with equipment to Lady Barron in the south, a distance of some 16 miles. Upon arrival, we were informed that there was a "hut" we could use. The "hut" was an abandoned cannery 200 ft. long and 60 ft. wide! Upon exploration, old freezing rooms were found as was a ladder up to the ceiling. As rain was threatening, lunch was eaten inside. Fires were desired by some and were lit inside in drums for fire protection. As the fires were not burning well, owing to the wet wood, some bright people decided to use some straw to build up their fire. Immediately curses rained thick on the culprits from among the dense clouds of choking smoke in the factory. The more optimistic consoled themselves that at least the smoke would discourage any "wogs" in the building. The most important things done in the afternoon were the preparation of sleeping positions and insulation against the concrete floor, and the building of fire-places. After a boisterous tea, all turned in sometime before mid-night.

The next morning: gloom. It had rained all night, and looked like keeping it up all day (which it did). Nothing much (was done that day except some took walks and bought extra stores. On Saturday, it was still raining, and by now the drainage system on the building gave up in disgust (We had 3½ inches from the time of arrival.). By now the wood was low for the fires, but wood was retrieved from the ceiling with only one or two feet going through the masonite.

Sunday broke grey, but rainless. At once, we made a trip over to the southern islands, Great Dog and Little Dog, in the boat of Laurie Walker, a local fisherman. Dr. Dorwood, a Scot, who was a firm favourite with all by now, told us we were to count Cape Barren geese. A small party of four landed on Little Dog Island. We walked over to a mutton-birders' camp and based ourselves there. Then we went round the island mapping it and counting the Cape Barren geese pairs. Curses on mutton-birds were prevailing as feet sank through soft earth into burrows, and reached crescendos when the burrows were filled with water. After lunch we were picked up and informed by the others that they had been counting "wretched flocks of geese that wouldn't keep still".

On Monday, the weather remained reasonably fine, so most of the party went out to the islands again. Mr. Macmillan and two others went by the bread delivery from Lady Barron to the Airport. There they met Dr. Williams, from Monash University. During the day only half an inch of rain fell.

On the Tuesday, there was only intermittent rain, so most of the party again went out to the Island. After Mr. Macmillan had finished skinning a Pacific gull, he and the two others who were with him the previous day, went out on the invitation of Athol Dart, a local farmer, to his property to inspect a cave that possibly contained bats. After being shown the cave and having a meal as the guests of Mr. Dart, we went to the island school. There we were given an interesting talk and shown some slides of the island. We were also treated to supper. (The school is a primary one only, and there are 260 pupils, approximately. Of these, only 16 do not come by bus from varying distances of up to 30 miles).

Our secojid last day, Wednesday, was reasonably fine and most of the boys again went out to the southern islands. Mr. Macmillan, Mr. Mackie and three boys went on a tour of the main island, conducted by the Warden (Tasmanian equivalent of Shire President). New Soldier Settlement farms were pointed out and other signs of progress.

The last day, Thursday, May 31st, was busy. The factory floor was swept, and equipment packed. All was loaded on the bus, and after some farewells to good friends, we pulled out and journeyed to the Whitemark Airport, where the ladies of the local C.W.A. gave us an excellent morning tea, leaving us with the impression that they knew how to bake a cake. After the customary delay, we climbed aboard our plane (Special Flight A). The engines started, we rolled into position on the runway and then lumbered off and away from a happy time and our new friends.

Numbers were restricted this year by the new ruling that only Fourth Forms and above could join, and by the granting of exemption to second year Sixth Formers who had served four years in the cadets. As many of this year's Fourth Formers were cadets last year, the number of new recruits barely filled two platoons, and reduced the strength to 279. Some recovery should take place next year.

First term was spent discovering how much had been forgotten by the seniors and preparing the "rookies" for their first public appearance. This took place on Commonwealth Youth Sunday on 6th May. Once again we were grateful to the Geelong Highland Pipe Band, which each year turns out with us for this parade.

Before this, the more experienced 1 Platoon had provided a Guard of Honour for the Anzac Day march for which they were thanked and congratulated by the local R.S.L.

Range practices filled every Saturday morning at the end of first term. Gone are the old "bull's eye" type targets and instead, the new silhouette "head and shoulders" type have replaced them.

Second term was the usual rush of preparation for camp: training the Guard, Drill and Specialists teams for competitions and seeing that the senior members at least have a working knowledge of field craft and map reading.

Time was found to fire the local eliminations of the Clowes' Cup and Earl Roberts' trophy. To our pleasure, the aggregate score of our team was the best for the day, so the 17th Australian Infantry Brigade Shield and the 24th Cadet Battalion Shield both came to College for a twelve month stay.

Camp was at Scrub Hill and during term holidays. This led to a few cases of self pity. Despite the weather of the previous two intakes, our stay was fortunate. Being right alongside the training area is a tremendous advantage. On the Thursday we saw two demonstrations of interest. The Army Service Corps showed their latest equipment including parachutes and containers, and in the afternoon came a spectacular display by the tanks of the Armoured Regiment. It was a demonstration of fire power and mobility that no lecture could have adequately described. We also had the pleasure of hearing that both Guard and Drill teams were selected for the finals.

Third term was not two weeks old when the annual gymkhana date arrived and off went our teams, military and athletic, to Scotch College. It was a day of considerable tension for the people who had trained so hard for so long. But the results were extremely pleasing to everyone concerned. The Drill Platoon won, after a very close competition, thus bringing back the Shield, which left us in 1956, after seven consecutive wins.

The 3 inch mortar crew also won, completing the hat trick of three successive wins, at the last appearance of this well known 'weapon. The signal section, was second to Lilydale High and the Guard improved from sixth place in eliminations to fourth place in the finals.

The last public appearance of the Unit, for the year, was the "Passing Out Parade", held on 18th October. Our chief guest was the Commander, 3 Cadet Brigade, Lt. Col. S. Walsh, with representatives of local establishments, Lt. Col. J. McNeill of the City of Geelong Regiment and representatives of infantry and the United Service Institute.

The chief event of the day was the retirement of Capt. J. H. Campbell, after 22 years as Quarter Master. To him was the honour of leading the "Passing Out Company". He then accepted with our sincere thanks, a memento of his association with the unit. This was a flat polished box made by the College carpenter, with a Glengarry badge inset in the lid and a silver plaque inscribed: "Capt. J. H. Campbell, Q.M. 1940-1962". The box contained three new pipes with compartments for six. This, in case anyone doubted it, was to remind him of the Scottish tradition of the unit. In a parting speech, "J.H." had a few valuable remarks to make on the subject of training to accept responsibility and the value of cadet training in this regard.

Colonel Walsh also spoke with particularly effective force.

The final March Past and dismissal completed another good training year.

UNITED NATIONS

This year there has again been activity in the school by those interested in the United Nations Organization. R. N. Douglas, P. Hobart, I. R. A. McLean and S. J. Miles attended an All Schools' Day Conference at St. Catherine's School on June 23rd. The theme of the conference was "Changing Winds in Africa."

Professor Zelman Cowan, Dean of the Faculty of Law at Melbourne University, delivered an address consisting of a most comprehensive coverage of the African situation to the present day. Mr. T. A. Pyman, a member of the Australian delegation to the U.N. General Assembly in 1955 and 1957, spoke on the part played by the U.N. in the Congo crisis. Two lively discussions covering points raised by the speakers were held, and followed by films covering aspects of the work of the United Nations Organization.

On United Nations' Day, October 24th, a special assembly was held in the Morrison Hall. Prayers offered for the continuation of the work of the United Nations were followed by the reading of the preamble to the United Nations' charter.

Mr. Quick then outlined the work of some of the specialized agencies. He emphasized the necessity of being aware of the work of the U.N. and having faith in its ability to keep the world in peaceful co-existence. However, this cannot happen unless we contribute something towards the U.N.

The flag of the United Nations Organization was flown over the school throughout the day.

Mr. Quick prepared a contest based on the United Nations Organization and its agencies. This was entered by many who were able to learn something more about the United Nations while searching for answers to the contest questionnaire.

SCIENCE CLUB

Secretary: M. R. Campbell.
Committee: W. E. Cameron,
 R. N. Douglas,
 J. McK. Mitchell.

This year the Science Club was guided, initially by Mr. Money, but during the second and third terms by Mr. Grainger and Mr. Money. Both provided invaluable assistance, criticism and advice to members.

Although the club was not very successful at the beginning of the year it gradually gained momentum and went from strength to strength. From second term onwards membership had to be limited.

A wide variety of projects and experiments were attempted successfully.

- Castner process for the manufacture of Sodium (P. Hobart).
- Nickel Plating (R. Nation).
- Cathode Ray Oscilloscope and associated electronic equipment (J. Mitchell).
- Colloids (A. Proudfoot).
- Cotterill Electrostatic Precipitator (R. Peck).
- Induction Tube and Discharge Tube (M. Campbell and J. Mitchell).

This year the club did not go on any excursions or invite speakers to address the club as originally intended, but next year this will be a major part in the club's activities. Also, next year, it is intended that the club become financial, a charge being made of 5/- per term.

JUNIOR CLUBS

The Third Form Thursday afternoon clubs have completed a satisfactory opening year in which boys have sampled a range of activities from those offered.

This term rifle shooting was available for the first time and proved popular to the point of embarrassment, so that it became necessary to give a large number of aspiring riflemen a small amount of shooting.

The year has been an interesting experiment, with teachers and taught all learning a great deal.

Connected with this work was the tour in north-eastern Victoria, last August, when 64 boys widened their horizons and acquired some special knowledge of the Upper Murray region and the Kiewa and Snowy power developments.

"ICARUS"

"Icarus" has almost become an accepted part of College life. No longer a novelty, it has become the magazine for complaint, comment and composition.

Although the main raison d'être of the "Icarus" is to encourage literary and cultural activities in the College, it derives about 30% of its contents and a considerable part of its popularity from "Letters to the Editor", which discuss diverse aspects of school life ranging from the layout of "Pegasus" to the state of the minibus tyres. "Reviews and Previews" includes essentially reviews but the full title is retained to satisfy the editors' love of assonance. The "Inspiration and . . ." fortunately forms the largest section in "Icarus" and as long as this is the case, "Icarus" will be serving its purpose as the breeding group for Nobel prize winners in Literature and . . .

A fourth section "Comments" was introduced in the June "Icarus" to accommodate the School Opinion Poll, and several unclassifiable articles, and retained in the August issue for the Sixth form poll results.

There were four issues this year, but these have been considerably larger than the corresponding issues of last year, reflecting an increasing interest in the magazine.

However, "Icarus" can remain only as long as people contribute to it. It is controlled exclusively by the boys of the school, and its fate rests with the boys of the school.

HIPPOCRENE

At the suggestion of interested sixth formers a small literary group was formed this year. It was decided to use the name, Hippocrene, the spring "beloved of poets" which had sprung up where the hoof of Pegasus first struck the earth on Mount Helicon. Mr. Mahar was asked to lead the group and a number of meetings were held in his home. The intention was to have play readings, discussion and music listening evenings and also to attend Melbourne and Geelong Theatre performances. Trips made during the year were to Alan Seymour's "The One Day of the Year", Carl Orff's "Carmina Burana" and Benjamin Britten's "St. Nicholas Cantata", and Ray Lawler's "Piccadilly Bushman".

Mr. LESLIE / . CAMPBELL

Announcement has been made that Mr. L. J. Campbell will retire at the end of this year from the position of Headmaster of the Preparatory School.

Mr. Campbell joined the staff in 1922 and was appointed House-master in charge of Warrinn House, a position he held until 1933 when he moved across to Junior House soon after it was established. Previously, the younger boarders had lived in Warrinn under his supervision and later lived in the present Hospital, which was then popularly known as the "Baby Health Centre."

He taught in the Senior School until in 1930 the Council appointed him Headmaster of the Preparatory School, which then had a total enrolment of about fifty boys.

Under Mr. Campbell's direction, the Preparatory School and Junior House steadily grew and developed. It was not long before the need was recognized for a Kindergarten, to provide for those boys who had begun at the Morongo Nursery School and had reached the age when the Morongo Junior School could not cater for them. Consequently, in 1931 the Kindergarten was established and soon moved to its own building in the north-west corner of the property.

The stage was reached in 1933 when the Preparatory School was separated from the Senior School, holding its own assembly, sports meetings, speech day and so on. However, Mr. Campbell was always careful to preserve in the boys an awareness that they were an integral part of Geelong College, taking a part in school functions and occasions.

With Mr. Campbell in charge, Junior House reached a high standard which parents soon appreciated, so that there were many more applications for admission than could be granted. He was greatly assisted by Miss R. Fraser, who was matron for many years, carrying out her duties in such a thorough manner that she earned the complete confidence of the parents.

Amidst his many duties, Mr. Campbell was able to maintain an active interest in rowing and coached the First VIII in 1932-33. His connection with the Boat Club has been commemorated by naming one of the fours the "L.J.C."

There are many men who recall the name "Frosty" Campbell with affection and feel gratitude for the abiding influence he has had on them. In the history of Geelong College he will always be remembered as the one who for 33 years moulded the Preparatory School while the wax was still soft.

AN APPRECIATION BY Sir FRANCIS ROLL AND

Mr. Campbell always seemed to me to be a man with mysterious gifts.

For one thing every one who knew him at all was really glad to do him a service, without his asking it.

For another he had an uncanny insight into the ambitions and motives of young boys. I rarely heard an annual Report of his without gaining fresh light on the nature of the boy.

He was a teacher who, if a pupil did not grasp some lesson, would be less inclined to blame him, than to ask himself "What was wrong in my presentation of that subject? Could I approach it from another angle?"

He regarded each boy as a sacred trust. He did not preach much to them. But his own life with its firm gentleness, its courage in the face of ill health, its unselfishness and deep humility gave its own teaching.

It was because Preparatory School parents were conscious of this influence that so many almost dreaded the day when their sons would "leave" Mr. Campbell.

He was not only the head of the Preparatory School. He was also in charge of the Junior Boarding House. I fear that too much was asked of him.

We would acknowledge that without the devoted assistance of his First Lieutenant, Mr. Ewen McLean, it would have been very difficult for him to do his own invaluable work.

These two men were the foundation of the Preparatory School and set its standards.

It is impossible to put into a few words a sense of the contribution that Mr. Campbell has made to the life of the College. But whatever a born teacher could do, whatever a lover of boys could do, whatever a man possessed of faith and hope and charity could do—this man of genius did.

L. J. Campbell

House Captain: R. N. Douglas.
House Prefect: I. R. A. McLean;

1962 has seen a further step towards the attainment of the vertical house system with the introduction of fifth formers into the house. This group forms the house committee which had previously comprised third formers. Some of these still have limited authority in the Library and Games Committees and the House sub-committee. The presence of senior boys in Mackie has made no difference to the traditional smooth running of the house.

In addition to the advantages of being the school's luxury house, the members of Mackie have continued to enjoy the valuable and entertaining activities of the Mackie Exploration Society, under the leadership of Mr. Macmillan, who has been assisted by Mr. Clayton. House debating was re-introduced during second term on Sundays after evening Church, giving an opportunity for enthusiastic oratory. T.V. and ping-pong are as popular as ever. Baseball was played after tea following the conclusion of lower school examinations. The culmination of the year was the end of year concert in which members of the house displayed their talents as entertainers.

Mackie has maintained the pleasant atmosphere characteristic to it; this atmosphere is a tribute to the unceasing care of Mr. Carrington for the welfare of the House. The tireless work of Mrs. Van Bergem is reflected in the high standard of cleanliness of the house . . . and the boys, and her kindly attitude to the boys of the house has been very much appreciated. It is with regret we say good-bye this year to Mr. Clayton who has, over the last four years, devoted himself to many sides of house and school life.

SENIOR HOUSE

Housemaster: R. G. Mackie, Esq.
Assistant Masters: R. D. Money, Esq.;
 G. C. Robertson, Esq.;
 M. B. Keary, Esq.;
 M. G. Ham., Esq.;
 A. J. E. Lawson, Esq.
House Captain: M. J. Knox.
Vice-Captain: P. M. Hobday.
House Prefects: D. M. Birks,
 G. K. Brown,
 D. E. Gardner,
 M. D. Gretton-Watson.

This year is notable for three important events which have occurred during the year. The first is the appointment of Mr. Mackie as Housemaster. The second is that Third Formers, for the first time, are living in the house, as the first stage of Air. Thwaites' proposed parallel House System. The third is that Senior House have taken over three dormitories and the bath-room in the old Rolland House. The remaining dormitory has been changed into a flat for a married resident housemaster. Many old boys who remember Dormitory 8, with affection, will regret to learn that it has been converted into a classroom. We have also taken over Room A for a recreation room as the old one is being extended into a library.

The gratitude of the House should be expressed to Mr. Robertson, who relinquished the Housemastership at the start of second term.

Mr. Robertson had been Housemaster for a little more than three years, during which time he earned the respect of every boy in the house.

The House has been kept busy with activities through the year and as the year closes there is a squash Tournament being played. This activity, started by Mr. Money, is being arranged under the guidance of Henderson and Corr, who have devoted a lot of time to it.

As well as this, Mr. Mackie has taken a party of boys down to the Otway Ranges for a week-end and we hope this will not be the last trip. In second term, we held our annual dance and from all reports it was a success.

WARRINN HOUSE

| House Prefects: | D. K. Calvert, |

Warrinn this year was greatly improved by a "dash" of paint inside and the outside could well do with some too. The bath-room was greatly improved by new wall coverings and paint.

As Warrinn is under more than one roof it is a little difficult to keep an eye on every boy in the House. However, in this respect all those in authority have done well.

The House has run smoothly throughout the year, and thanks to Air. Bickford the House has been respected by boys and masters. But not all the thanks go to Air. Bickford; his assistants, in Mr. Dowde, Air. Hatton and Air. Hunter, have also done valuable work to keep the House running smoothly and efficiently.

As is known by most of the House and by many boys of the school, Mr. Bickford is leaving Warrinn. His place is being taken by an old Collegian, Air. Elliott, who is teaching at "Timber Top" at the moment. We hope that he will be as good as the previous Housemasters.

During the last few weeks the bicycle shed at the old prep, has been enclosed for the protection of bicycles from intruders.

Once again, as the year closes, the masters and boys look forward for a rest after exams. This year boys from Warrinn had a day out at Torquay. A barbecue was held on that day and it fittingly drew this year for Warrinn boys to a close.

CALVERT HOUSE

| Housemaster: | F. R. Quick, Esq. |
| Assistant Master: | T. H. Reid, Esq. |
| House Captain: | D. M. Berney. |
| Vice-Captain: | J. E. Davies. |
| House Prefects: | K. A. I. MacLean, |
| | J. McK. Mitchell, |
| | P. M. Hobart. |

Once again Calvert House has completed a most successful year. We commenced the year with Mr. Quick as House Master, and welcomed as assistant House Alaster, Mr. Reid. Both gave energetic guidance throughout the year. The Day House had 45 boys, three joining us later in the year. A special welcome was extended to K. Padmanathan.

Settling down into its second year, the newly adopted House system appears to have been most successful. It has facilitated the administration of the House, and has brought the boys into closer contact with their Housemaster.

Because of the close struggle in the House Competition, greater House spirit and enthusiasm to win the competition have been shown.

SPORT

|----------------------|---------------|
| Captain: | J. E. Davies. |
| Vice-Captain: | D. M. Berney. |

The sports house competed most earnestly in all aspects of the House activities. Early in the year it became evident that the competition would be a close struggle.

The House swimming sports gave McArthur a narrow win from Calvert. This year's representation was the best seen for many years. Congratulations go to P. Murray who won the Open Championship, and D. Leslie who was second.

In the House rowing, Calvert drew second station and the "Peg III". Threatened once again by the McArthur combination, Calvert fought well to second place, by I of a length having lost much ground by crabbing at the start. The crew was; J. D. Troedel, D. M. Berney, R. J. Irvine, D. E. Gardner, T. J. Holden, W. T. Troedel, R. J. Lawler, C. W. Whitehead, W. G. Downey.

The House football team was again coached by Air. Quick. It was captained by S. T. Green, John Davies being injured early in the season. The match against McArthur was the decisive one for each House at football and it was a great match. A better co-ordination of all players and perseverance won the day, however.

In the Cross Country event Calvert was strong as in 1961. W. T. Troedel came in first for Calvert (In third field placing), and the House had many higher standards.

After the House Athletic Sports great speculation arose as the House competition points showed: Calvert 80, McArthur 79. Who would win the Athletics Standards? Mr. Quick, ably assisted by Mr. Reid, was rounding up and stimulating boys to a fighting finish that would put Calvert ahead. The following boys performed creditably:

|--------------------|-------------------|
| Bade, G. P. | MacLean, K. A. I. |
| Barratt, G. R. | McTavish, R. |
| Betts, R. G. | Marshall, G. |

| Gardner, D. E. | Wettenhall, G. B. |
| Henshilwood, J. R. | Wishart, R. J. |
| Leslie, D. G. | |

At the same time Mr. Quick was coaching the Tennis team for the House tennis competition to follow. It was a most exciting competition and the winner was not clear until after the final event.

McARTHUR HOUSE

|--------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| Housemaster: | A. D. Mahar, Esq. |
| Assistant Master: | E. B. Davies, Esq. |
| House Captain: | K. T. Andrews. |
| School Prefect: | C. G. Seward. |
| House Prefects: | W. L. Lehmann, D. E. McLellan. |

The primary aim of the House has been to increase each boy's participation in the various aspects of school life, and to make possible an understanding supervision of his activities. To achieve this aim, various measures have been taken, including the requirement for each boy below Sixth Form to see Mr. Mahar personally once a week, the weekly meetings during second term of all Sixth Form members of the House, and the formal interviews between boy and housemaster twice during the year to assess the boy's progress in the light of his School Reports.

One of the secondary aims of the day house is administrative. Within its scope lie many varying functions, and these include the checking of rolls at sports meetings and on various other occasions, the supervision of school dress, the allocation of lockers and the control of sport-night attendances. To carry out all these functions efficiently, McArthur, this year, devised a system of organization whereby there was a chain of command from the Housemaster to the bottom of the house. The house was divided into nine groups, each consisting of approximately five boys. Each group was under the leadership of a group leader, who, with two other group leaders, was under the leadership of a house prefect. Through such an organization, McArthur was able to give responsibility to a large number of boys in the house, and in addition, to give each boy the feeling of being known as an individual very early in the year.

This system has actively encouraged co-operation between boys and as a consequence has been most effective.

McArthur has been well served by its Prefects and particularly so by Andrews, the House Captain, who has devoted much time and effort to the welfare of his house.

SPORT

Captain: H. C. Forbes.

One of the features of McArthur House Sport this year has been the fact that the boys have themselves taken the responsibility for seeing that attendance is maintained and House teams are picked. This has been particularly noticeable in attendance at Athletics Standards where the day boys have been responsible to their group leaders and boarders have been responsible to Hugh Forbes and Roger Douglas, both of whom have been most reliable.

The sporting activities have been very exciting throughout the year and they have been marked by close competition, particularly with Calvert House: the swimming sports were not decided until the last event, rowing brought a remarkably close finish after Calvert's initial misfortune, the McArthur football team which was so strong on paper was defeated, a tremendous interest was taken in Athletic Standards, and finally the House Competition winner was in doubt until after the Tennis, the final competition.

Inter-house competition was also held in Music where the House was under the direction of D. E. McLellan, and for the first time competitions were held in Debating at both fifth and third form levels.

The House has received its leadership from a number of boys apart from Forbes and Andrews: W. L. Lehmann was stroke of the VIII, Captain of the XVIII and Captain of Athletics; M. D. Gretton-Watson was Captain of Cricket; C. G. Seward Captain of Swimming; G. D. Johnstone Captain of Shooting and A. G. Henderson Captain of Tennis.

An added encouragement to House unity and enthusiasm has been the decision of the General House Committee to allow the Houses to award their own Colours. Football, Athletics and Tennis colours were the first to be awarded under the new system.

MORRISON HOUSE

Housemaster: K. W. Nicolson, Esq.
Assistant Master: H. L. E. Dunkley, Esq.
House Captain: G. P. Hallebone.
House Prefects: R. P. McCann,
T. F. McNair.

Although this is the second year under the new system it is only now becoming apparent to many of the boys that this organization is contributing immensely to the atmosphere of the school.

Unfortunately, in about five or six years, Morrison will not have any day-boy members, because the present Senior House will eventually become Morrison House. As a result, we had only 42 boys in the House, which tended to contribute to a closer understanding between Housemaster and boys, and also to improve conditions considerably. The sports lockers were not so crowded, and supervision was generally made much easier for those in authority.

SPORT

Captain: P. M. Hobday.

Vice-Captain: G. P. Hallebone.

Morrison House was the largest sports house this year. We had a noticeable lack of gifted sportsmen, and so our performances were a credit to those of the house who were prepared to put everything into the competition.

In swimming and athletics we battled with Shannon for last place, although in the athletics we were hampered by injuries to some of our leading athletes.

At cricket, led by G. P. Hallebone, we did not win a match, although the team performed quite well against more experienced opponents.

D. Birks was captain of the rowing, and in a fairly close finish, we were placed third.

Our football team looked impressive on paper, but we were beaten by McArthur and Calvert. We managed to beat our rivals, Shannon, however. R. Russell was captain of the XVIII.

The house shooting team came third with D. Davies as non-firing captain.

In the house music competitions we achieved a high standard, and we were narrowly beaten by Calvert for first place.

SHANNON HOUSE

Housemaster: E. B. Lester, Esq.
Assistant Master: J. R. Hunter, Esq.
House Captain: M. R. Campbell.
House Prefects: A. P. Sheahan,
 G. R. Synot.

This year there were 53 boys in Shannon House. However, as the new "vertical" house system has not yet been fully implemented, many ideals and aims of that system could not be achieved, and probably will not be achieved until each boarding and day-house becomes a separate sporting entity. For this reason, house spirit was somewhat lacking. However, there was more continuity of relationship to one master—unlike the old "Knowle House" days.

Shannon is fortunate in having, as Housemaster, Mr. Lester who is always ready to assist or offer advice to any boy.

SPORT

Captain: M. J. Knox.
Vice-Captains: B. Mulligan,
 A. P. Sheahan.

This year Shannon did not enjoy a high standard of success in the sporting field. However, one bright spot was our win in the open cricket for the third successive year. However, this was the only taste of success we had, as we came last in the rowing, both in the eights and fours, and third in the swimming.

The football team was particularly weak. We did not win a game in either the open or under age division. This standard was maintained in the shooting.

However, we did come second in the Cross Country and a few athletes carried the burden to bring us to third place in the athletics. The Standards competition and the House Tennis decided our final position.

FOOTBALL

The College First XVIII was in a Grand Final in 1959. That was a very good year, but this year, 1962, was quite remarkable for long and sustained fighting back.

Early, playing at St. Kevin's in the first P.S. match, the team lost Captain John Davies and full forward Emerson, and its attack faded and it was defeated. The team was then faced with the fact of having to win all remaining matches by a margin of five or six goals to have a chance of being in the Final round. Players faced this tremendous task with great determination, and enthusiasm. All matches were played with an amazingly consistent, a¹-quarters performance until finally came the never to be forgotten match against Grammar at Corio. Before the game, players knew they had to win by six goals to keep either Grammar or St. Kevin's out of the Final on percentages.

Right from the start with great determination, steady positional play, good drop kicking, and tremendous high marking, especially by G. Andrews, the team won this match and the right to play Wesley for the Premiership.

As in 1959, the XVIII met Wesley on their own ground. They were playing for their fourth Premiership in a row, with a fast and clever side. Their early speed and superior handling of the wet ball put them in front. However, in the last quarter College won in the air and drew close to its first Premiership for thirty years by kicking three goals to nil. Again the team demonstrated its great fighting qualities.

Congratulations must go to Wesley for their amazing form over so many years and for their great play in the Final in 1962.

The College side had a splendid season. The boys trained hard, obeyed instructions from both captain and coach, kept in position and never gave up.

Congratulations should also go to: John Davies, for courageously playing on injured legs and for so ably doing his captain's job; G. Andrews, K. Andrews, Brown, Green, Paton, Russell and Sheahan, for winning Honours; Green, for gaining selection in the Combined P.S. side; and coaches Ian Blair and Jim Fidge and the second XVIII for winning the V. H. Profit Cup.

The Under 16A team also performed creditably this year, winning six of its ten matches. This performance was achieved, despite the fact that five Under 16 boys played in the First XVIII. It was not possible therefore, to field the same team in successive matches, and this was an unsettling influence which had to be overcome. This was done most effectively, team spirit being particularly strong.

During the season, two or three nights were spent in Under 16 training each week. Circuit training was also introduced for the first time, which resulted in a marked improvement in the team's stamina.

No football season can be successful without a great deal of help and, as in past seasons support was received from umpires, domestic staff, coaches, trainers, Old Boy enthusiasts and, in particular, Mr. E. B. Davies, who instituted and supervises our circuit training.

FIRST XVIII

Coach: F. R. Quick, Esq.

FIRST PS. MATCH

St. Kevin's College v. Geelong College at St. Kevin's, on 23rd June.

The ground was damp but firm, with a slight westerly breeze and brilliant sunshine. Davies won the toss and decided to kick to the eastern end of the ground.

St. Kevin's began at a fast pace and kept it up, winning the ball from College players often. However, College managed to keep the ball at their forward line for most of the quarter. Highlight of this quarter was a brilliant left-foot goal from Green.

In a congested second quarter, St. Kevin's had the advantage of the breeze and made the most of their opportunities. College players were often caught flat-footed during this quarter.

After half-time, College tried repeatedly to score goals, but inaccurate kicking resulted in many behinds being bustled by the fast St. Kevin's side.

In the final quarter, Paton consistently cleared the ball from the St. Kevin's goal, but poor marking by the College let St. Kevin's through often. After being goalless for two quarters, College at last scored through Russell.

SECOND P.S. MATCH

Geelong College v. Hailebury College at Geelong College, on 30th June.

The ground was firm but wet and there was a strong westerly blowing down the ground. Lehmann won the toss and decided to kick with the wind.

Both teams were nervous at the start, but though scambly, play was fast. The ball stayed down in the College forward zone most of the quarter, and Sheahan and Andrews stopped nearly all Hailebury attacks.

In the second quarter, the game was played in packs and poor play resulted. Hailebury scored early in the quarter, but College again took the ball up to their forward zone where it remained most of the time.

Kicking with the wind, College had most of the play in the third quarter. College started quickly with a goal seconds after the quarter started. There was much poor kicking and fumbling by College in this quarter.

During the final quarter, College relaxed slightly and Hailebury scored their two goals for the match. Poor kicking by both sides was most noticeable.

THIRD P.S. MATCH

Carey Baptist Grammar School v. Geelong College at Carey, on 20th July.

There was a strong breeze blowing across the ground all day. The ground was damp but in good condition. College lost the toss and kicked up the ground.

The game started with a congested first quarter with many packs and some fumbling of the ball. Carey won in the ruck but College won around the packs and took many marks.

The second quarter was noted for the inability of College to pick the ball from the ground. Play still remained crowded, with Carey winning in the ruck. Carey had most of the play, but did not score a goal until late in the quarter.

After half-time, Carey came out determined to beat College. College had most of the play in the first half, but twice Carey went ahead. College soon went ahead and with some brilliant play scored four goals very quickly.

In the last quarter, Carey tried repeatedly to catch up, but College responded to the challenge and increased their lead. College marked above Carey all the time and started to win in the rucks. Some brilliant pieces of play left College's opponents floundering.

FOURTH P.S. MATCH

Geelong Grammar School v. Geelong College at Grammar, on 28th July.

Conditions were good. The ground was firm and there was a breeze across the ground favouring the northern goals. Davies won the toss and kicked with the wind.

At the start of the game, College settled down and scored soon after the game began. Grammar won in the ruck during the quarter, and often attacked with good marks. Towards the end of the quarter, College had many attempts to score.

At the start of the second quarter, Grammar sent the ball to their forward line, which became crowded, thus causing Grammar to lose many opportunities to score. College tried often to score but only a goal from the half forward line was accomplished.

After half time, Grammar came out refreshed and attacked. The ball was sent to College's forward line where G. Andrews scored a goal. For most of the quarter, College attacked often but Grammar scored their first goal after the ball rolled through the goal posts.

In the last quarter, Grammar attacked determinedly to try to catch College. Clever play was seen on both sides but Grammar kept the ball in their half forward line for most of the quarter.

Scores:

| Quarter | G.G.S. | G.C. |
|---------|-------------|-------------|
| 1 | 0 - 1 (1) | 3 - 2 (20) |

FINAL P.S. MATCH

Wesley College v. Geelong College at Wesley, on 3rd August.

There was a light breeze blowing and the ground was in fair condition with some slippery patches.

The first quarter was notable for the many Wesley attacks. College played well and good play stopped many attacks. Many marks were taken during the quarter.

At the start of the second quarter, College took the ball down to their forward line, but Wesley played well and cleared. Wesley marked well and always had a loose player on the field to take the ball.

After half time Wesley, with a good display of football, kicked four goals in the first ten minutes. College tried often to score but succeeded only twice.

In the last quarter, College started to play well. They put the ball in their forward line and stopped many Wesley attempts to score.

Scores:

THE PEGASUS

TENNIS

Although entries for the annual College-Hermitage-Moronggo mixed doubles tournament this year were fewer than in past years, because of a clash with V.F.L. football finals, it was again a success. The winners were Helen Jackson (Hermitage) and Ian Corr.

There was rather more interest taken in the House Tennis this year. It was the last inter-House contest, and it was known that the result could determine the premier sports house for 1962. The Calvert team proved too strong for all its rivals.

HOCKEY

Coach: R. G. Mackie, Esq.

This year, the College fielded its first hockey team. Practices were conducted on the Old Prep. School oval, on Tuesdays, and at the New Prep, on Fridays.

The College provided over 30 players, enough to make up a First and Second XI. Mr. Mackie fostered the idea of a hockey team at the College, gave proficient coaching, and encouraged the teams throughout the season.

The First XI had a successful opening season, winning three games and losing two. The defence was strong and conceded very few goals, thanks largely to good goalkeeping by Norman Both. The forwards attacked continuously, though their shooting in front of goal was weak; Eric Soon, however, scored a number of valuable goals. The team was well captained by Houldsworth, and Ken MacLean gave willing support.

The Second XI played two matches against Eastern Park boys, winning one and losing the other.

Next year it is hoped that there will be an increased number of players, so that the school will become a force to be reckoned with in Public School hockey.

Those who played in the First XI were: Houldsworth, R. (Captain); MacLean, K. A. I. (Vice-Captain); Bade, G. P.; Baker, D. J. H.; Both, N. M.; Bowden, A. M.; Champ, J. H.; Cronk, R. A.; Davey, R. B.; Padmanathan, K.; Scott-Murphy, R. E.; Soon, E. E. L.; Wiggs, W. T.

First XI Results:

- defeated Eastern Park Boys, at Eastern Park: 6-0.
- defeated G.G.S., Highton, at home: 6-1.
- defeated B.G.S., at home: 2-1.
- lost to G.G.S. Corio 2nd XI, at home: 2-1.
- lost to Ivanhoe Grammar School, at Ivanhoe: 3-1.

GOLF

As an experiment this year, golf was one of the alternatives for second term sport. Twenty boys were interested and with the co-operation of Mr. Davey and the Newtown and Chilwell City Council, we were able to play at Queen's Park in the one and a half hours between the end of school and sunset, for two shillings. The keenness shown was remarkable as there were very few absentees and some of those who played other sports often came down on one of their "off" nights. A match was arranged against Geelong Grammar on Saturday, 18th, August, at Barwon Heads. Even though the results may prove to the contrary, we did not acquit ourselves too badly as it is only our first year and Grammar have their own course.

Results were:

- Cameron lost 5 and 4.
- Russell lost at the 19th.
- Blair won 5 and 4.
- Kerr lost 2 and 1.
- Kidd lost 3 and 2.
- Pigdon lost 6 and 5.
- Holland won 3 and 2.

It is hoped that this match will become a permanent fixture and that those not so adept at football or cross-country running will have golf as a permanent alternative in the future.

ATHLETICS.

Coach: E. B. Davies, Esq.

Captain: W. L. Lehmann.

Vice-Captain: S. T. Green.

The early part of the 1962 athletics season was hampered by continuous bad weather. This meant that training on the ovals was impossible for a short time, and most boys were forced to train on the roads and in the gymnasium.

A meeting with St. Bede's College was arranged but because of the bad weather all the jumping events had to be postponed, although the track events were still held.

This year was a very good year for Geelong College at the Combined Sports. Although being placed sixth, College scored the most points for several years; this was because of the numerous places which were gained.

Several College records were recorded:

- Open 880 yards: W. L. Lehmann—1 min. 57.6 sees.
- Open Long Jump: S. T. Green—22 ft. 82 ins.
- Under 16 100 yards Hurdles: G. E. T. Andrews—13.6 sees.

Results of House Sports:

- 1. McArthur — 224 pts.
- 2. Calvert — 179 pts.
- 3. Shannon — 147 pts.
- 4. Morrison -- 128 pts.

Results of Combined Sports:

- 1. M.G.S. — 229

CROSS-COUNTRY RUNNING

Master in Charge: M. G. Ham, Esq.

This year was quite a satisfactory one for Cross Country Running as most of the boys on the lists trained quite hard and became reasonably fit.

We had runners in the Geelong Schoolboy Championships on the exeat weekend and several boys went to Melbourne to run in the Victorian Schoolboy Championships. On the day of the football match against Geelong Grammar we had a run against the Grammar team and in this we did quite well.

Apart from the competitive events we had several timed runs which gave good indications that almost everyone had improved considerably.

Once again Mr. Ham showed his interest by spending much time and effort.

THE WATER SKIER

The motor, like a thing provoked,
 Purred, and perished with a choke.
 And I in the water the while
 Relaxed and felt the chill
 Of a mid-September stream.

Again the monster coughed
 And I tensed as the flimsy bond
 Between us sharpened with
 A silent crack. And I was convulsed
 To motion, the churning waters
 Around me swirling
 As if the very earth had split beneath.
 My wind-tossed locks about me
 Frayed; a multitude of reptilious beings.

But now, the ice-smooth water
 Sped beneath my borrowed feet.
 I relaxed and felt the cool, keen cries
 Of dampened draughts about my ears,
 And thoughts of the world were lost.

THE CHIMNEY

Like a god in the mid-day sun
 He stands, sneering at the world about his feet.
 Towering above the city, he belches forth
 His smoke-filled heat.

He is the master, his word is law.
 And in contempt he spits
 With clouds of dust, and soot and fumes
 Upon the "poor".

In his mind he sees the envious stares
 Of other buildings,
 Straining their necks to see that noble sight
 Of power, strength and unsurpassed might.

But for once he is wrong,
 For their thoughts are mean.
 His glory and vain pride
 Are not really seen.

The "poor" are the everyday people in life,
 Who cheerfully work on with hardly a care,
 They have no respect for the snobs of this world
 For to them they're just chimneys,
 Full of hot air.

PUZZLE THIS OUT

In the Middle Ages, an unpopular manor lord was found to be sole heir of a huge estate in England. The former owner had died unexpectedly and it was decided that the estate should be given to his nearest relative. This new baron discovered that his estate was practically covered with poachers and tramps who had been allowed to stay on the land formerly by his dead relative. So, after sending out a warning the baron decided to enforce a new law.

He told his executioner that anyone caught trespassing on his land would pay for it with his life. He also wanted to give each poacher a choice as to how he would die, so every person was allowed to make a statement prior to his death. If it was true, he would be decapitated, and if it was false, he would pay by being hanged.

This method worked well until the day that a bright young fellow was caught catching fish from one of the baron's creeks. His statement after his conviction was simply, "I am going to be hanged".

R.B. III

THE BRICK

Unobtrusive shapes of mottled earth.
 Like railway trains, they flow along the wall,
 Straight, true.
 On rails of white, sliding into darkness,
 Or side by side, at rest.
 We live our lives
 In a flurry, that such a shape
 Of mud is never noted;
 We rarely stop, think,
 Realize just what that flurry would be,
 If such a common lump as this
 Were to be banished from our lives.

I.R.B. IV.

Dear Sirs,

The tiger is undoubtedly one of the noblest and most beautiful of animals. Over the years it has been in danger of extinction due to fading forests, deadshot Dukes, and marauding maharajahs.

Now it faces new dangers.

As an animal lover, I would like to heartily condemn a certain company's blatant and callous encouragement of the public to confine this noble beast in, of all places, a petrol tank, where no doubt, the poor animal, after undergoing extreme agonies, expires either from the continuous jolting or the suffocating fumes of the vehicle.

Animal lovers of the world, let us unite and cry, "Shame!" at this deplorable deed.

Yours, etc.

H. J. Higgins,

Managing Director of Wallaby
 Petrol Co. Ltd.

CADET CAMP

Half way through second term, those words began to loom ominously on the horizon. Although this is my first year in Cadets, I have heard terrible tales of this "Horror!" from classmates who had attended last year's camp. As the end of term approached the very mention of the word "camp" gave me a sick feeling in the pit of my stomach. However, when the morning of 31st August arrived I was mounting the bus which was to take me and my companions to our fate.

When the bus arrived the first thing done was to have lunch. Here I received my first surprise. The food was edible, not the unrecognizable plate of slop which makes one's stomach turn over, as I had been led to believe. More surprises were to come. That first night, on a palliasse full of hay, I had a good night's sleep, without waking or being cold once. Next morning I got the first indication that life was not to be all "peaches and cream". Being aroused at six-thirty and made to stand in the freezing cold is no joke. Breakfast was another good meal, and gave the day a good start. That morning we saw a fire-power demonstration. It was most interesting. Thus the general pattern of the camp began to fall into place. As the days passed I realized that I had been under a highly false impression as to the conditions in camp. Although the food was not always pleasant and plentiful, I did not starve and I found no need to supplement my food supply in any way. With films every night but two, and various demonstrations and exhibitions arranged, we did not fall short of entertainment.

Then came the day of the supposed "horror of horrors", the bivouac. This was reputed to be the most terrible, tiring and wasteful part of the camp. However, here again I was in for a surprise, a pleasant one. After a short "march" up into the hills, we dug ourselves in, had a filling lunch from our ration packs, and then waited for the enemy's attack. As each boy was armed with several blanks, this battle was quite good fun. Of course, as the battle progressed, one could hear cries of "How in the hell can you shoot me if I shoot you first?" and "You're not fair, you don't drop" and so on. That night I slept until we were awakened (at five-thirty). On that morning, Thursday, came what was probably the worst part of the camp's programme. We marched the many weary miles in to the town of Puckapunyal and on arriving, we were shown a rather weak display of army bits and pieces. Then we marched all the way back to the camp. However, things were more than made up that afternoon when we were shown a tank display. This display was a real eye-opener for all.

So, as far as I can see, between this year's camp and last year's, the Army has greatly improved the lot of the cadet, and made the camp well worth attending.

To those who will enter camp next year for the first time, I say this: there is nothing to be afraid of. I myself have proved that life is possible to live in camp, and if you are willing to give it a chance to prove itself, you, too, will enjoy this valuable experience.

First Year, 9 Platoon.

THE MASTER

(With apologies to Tennyson)

He clasps the cane with crooked hands,
 To strike the boy that he commands,
 Whirling it round him, firm he stands.

The broken boy beneath him crawls,
 Never again to ink the walls;
 And like a thunderclap he bawls.

"Pellet".

THE RIME OF THE ANCIENT MARINER

in simple language for simple people.

It is a sickly sailor.
 And of three he stops the third.
 "Pull in your beard, and beady eyes".
 He pretends not to have heard.

I'm go'n to a shindig, man,
 Don't be like a square wheel.
 The dance hall's booked the food is cooked,
 You can hear the brides-maids squeal.

The sailor starts his long, long tale,
 "There was a ship", quoth he,
 "Let go o'me, you loony cat".
 Eftsoons his hand drops he.

We left the shore, a storm blew up,
 So strong that it swept we (poetic licence)
 Way off our course, away, away.
 Into a wide, wide, sea.

End of Part I.

I longed for the duck-shooting season,
 When the sounds of the swamps I heard.
 But the only thing that broke the sky
 Was a silly, long necked bird.

So, lacking of a rifle,
 I found an old cross-bow.
 I lined it up in the ancient sights
 And let the arrow go.

End of Part II.

The moment the arrow pierced the bird
 The wind it ceased to blow.
 The engine was lack of petrol
 So the ship, it could not go.

My ship mates they had all dropt dead,
 And I started to see ghosts.
 When I came round we were in sight
 Of strange mysterious coasts.

When we sailed into a harbour,
 The ship slid under the sea.
 The pilot boat, which was close by Pulled up and rescued me.

End of Part III.

And now, at an uncertain hour,
 My madness, it returns.
 And, till I tell some one my tale
 This heat within me burns".

"Gee, thank you, ancient mariner,
 For putting me wise to your tale of woe.
 And now, if you'll untie me,
 I'd really like to go".

PREPARATORY SCHOOL

Nineteen-sixty-two goes down to history as a very special year in the life of the Preparatory School. Firstly, it marks the close of the long, distinguished record of service given by our Headmaster, Mr. L. J. Campbell, who came to the College staff forty-one years ago. In his thirty-two years as Headmaster of the Preparatory School he has seen it develop into one of the finest Junior Schools in Australia. We honour him for what he has been and for all he has accomplished through the years and we wish him great happiness in his years of retirement.

This year has seen remarkable building changes affecting our school. The new Assembly Hall and Art and Science Wing have added wonderful value to our worship, work and corporate school life. During the second half of the year the two-storey boarding school section has considerably changed the face of the new school. A large team of workers has been proceeding quite rapidly with the dining hall, kitchen, changing rooms, dormitories and bathrooms. This section will be completed before Christmas.

The transfer of the forty-six boarders of Rolland House from their original boarding section of senior school into the attractive new setting of Mossgiel in Noble Street was accomplished with ease, due in no small way to the detailed planning and supervision of Mr. D. G. McIntyre, House Master of Rolland House. The beautiful grounds add much to this lovely old home and it is little wonder that the boys are very proud of their new Rolland House. It is a real home away from home.

School work has gone along quite effectively in the classrooms and football, baseball, hockey, archery and athletics have been enjoyed in the spacious grounds. The cyclone fencing of the tennis court and turf wicket area has begun and another active tree planting season successfully concluded. One of the highlights of this year was the very enjoyable Pageant staged in second term. The Medieval Pageant—"In days of Olde when Knight were Bolde."

Early Saturday afternoon of the 11th of August saw a remarkable change in and about our Twentieth Century Preparatory School buildings! A large percentage of the inhabitants was dressed in a wide variety of colourful costumes—that lent much to the setting for this pageant.

The school Chaplain the Rev. E. C. McLean opened proceedings with a prayer and spoke on behalf of himself and Mr. L. J. Campbell who sent his best wishes for success.

Numerous knights, archers, lords and ladies and their jesters, Robin Hood and his merry men, townsfolk, beggars and even lepers mingled with large numbers of parents and friends of the school. It was indeed a happy, noisy crowd that came to be seen or heard, or just to enjoy themselves.

Brisk business was carried on amongst the stalls and entertainments of all kinds. Apparently cakes, flowers, clothing, novelties and coconut shies, even trains and films, were just as popular in the Middle Ages as they are today. Panaceas and elixers were just as much in demand as ever. At any rate the large numbers of boys and staff who worked so well for the occasion were doubly rewarded by the success of the Pageant as a worthwhile Social Studies project, as well as an enjoyable means of raising £200 for the ground improvements of our new school.

Amongst other highlights of the afternoon were football kicking, and the archery competitions. The throng applauded performances given on the wagon stage in the village square. The Chester mystery entitled "The Deluge" and Geoffrey Chaucer's "Cock and Fox" were well received. 'Bad' King John signed the Magna Carta and the 'Dumb Wife' was cured.

Other frolics included a Crusade and a 'Grand Parade' which entertained those at afternoon tea as the procession snaked around and about the stalls and tea-takers.

Excursions through the school grounds on Snow Hobbs' Spirit of Pegasus proved popular with the children and adults alike. Fortunately no-one qualified for a period to be spent in the pillory.

Indeed this Medieval parade 'In the Days of Olde when Knights were Bolde' remains an unforgettable memory. Much credit goes to Mr. D. H. Mainwood the chief organiser and his band of workers.

Library Notes.

The "Helen Mackie" Library has shown a healthy development throughout the year and, with the increasing number of books, is able to supply a more extensive service to the school both as an adjunct to formal class work and as a readily available source of recreational reading.

The boys have been given every opportunity to enlarge their knowledge on a subject for themselves through the use of the Library. They have begun to learn to use books for research on set subjects and so started something which is hoped, will become a habit. This habit of seeking, shifting and writing down information for themselves can be of the utmost value if continually developed throughout their school career.

Every boy is encouraged to read as much and as widely as possible and most boys respond enthusiastically. Books are provided to stimulate imagination, to help boys to use their leisure constructively, broaden interests and through reading, it is hoped, they will learn to be tolerant and be helped to keep an active and open mind.

The Senior and Junior Library committees have given much of their time helping to keep the Library functioning as smoothly as possible. They have arranged displays, covered new books, catalogued magazine articles, filed catalogue cards, coped with overdue books, as well as helped to keep the shelves in order and the library tidy.

Members of the Committee are as follows:

Senior Committee—R. Spokes (Chief Librarian), H. Cook, G. Craig, A. Davey, R. Head, R. Hepburn, K. Hirst, A. Knight, R. Morris, R. Orchard, I. Penrose, P. Piddington, D. Wardle, B. Barber, A. Jenkins, D. Laidlaw, C. Beel, H. Rule.

Junior Committee—R. Anderson, J. Nail, T. Thwaites, B. Watson.

United Nations' Day.

On 24th October we celebrated the anniversary of that day seventeen years ago when countries of the world joined together to work for peace as the United Nations.

During the morning the school inspected the display of photographic U.N.E.S.C.O. material in the Art Room, the display of charts in the form rooms and a special exhibition of items and products of many countries of the U.N., arranged very artistically by A. Davey, in the library.

Once again our annual observance was held in Morrison Hall which prominently displayed the United Nations' Flag. The afternoon programme commenced with a play presented by the Drama Club and produced by A. Ward. This told about other children in the world and the work of the United Nations. Another way to learn about other countries is through listening to their music and so the boys of 6J presented songs of Russia and Norway. Thoughts on the United Nations were expressed by Mrs. Noel Heath, our guest speaker, who was introduced by Mr. Mainwood and thanked by Ian Miller who led the school in the reading of the Introduction to the Charter of the United Nations.

The programme concluded with the screening of the film "The Far Cry*" which described the work of Save the Children Fund.

Prior to United Nations' Day the boys of the primary forms prepared charts about "The work of the United Nations" and "Children" and "Homes" around the world. These were later judged by Mr. R. Quick, Master in Charge of the Senior School U.N. group. He awarded first place in the 3rd Grade to D. Collins for his chart on "Children of the United Nations"; the fourth Grade first place was awarded to A. Hodges for his entry showing "Other Peoples' Homes" and J. Collins and J. Keddie won first places in 5th and 6th Forms respectively for their project on "The Work of the United Nations". For the first time an essay competition was conducted in the senior form of the Preparatory School, the topic being an account of the valuable work done in recent years of any one agency of the United Nations. H. Seller's essay on "U.N.E.S.C.O." and R. Spokes' account of the work for Refugees were chosen as the best essays in first and second forms. A very suitable brochure depicting the activities of the United Nations' Organization was produced by Mrs. James and Miss Stokes for class room use.

Social Service.

During the latter part of the year a very active Social Service Committee, headed by I. Penrose, J. Crellin and D. Wardle, has kept up its record of fund raising activities. As well as the usual Friday form donations and the sale of collected milk bottle tops, our funds have been further supplemented by a "Hot Dog" Stall, a "Treasure Hunt", a "Slow" Bicycle Race and a "White Elephant" Stall. We would like to thank all those who donated cordial and goods for the White Elephant Stall. Out special thanks go to Mr. W. S. Knight who donated all the saveloys for the very successful "Hot Dog" Stall.

We would also like to thank Mr. David Scott, of Community Aid Abroad and Mr. Gordon Murray who once again spoke to the school about the Geelong Community Chest and Miss Sweetland, the Secretary of the "Save the Children Fund" who addressed the boys and lent us a film depicting the work of the Fund. Another guest speaker was Mr. Brewer of the British and Foreign Bible Society who presented a pennant to the school for the work it had done for his Society.

Our only excursion during the second half of the year was to the Geelong Legacy Club Rooms where we saw Legacy Children enjoying games arranged for them and joined in the fun on the trampoline.

"Campbell House".

It has been announced that from the beginning of 1963 the Kindergarten section of the College will be known as Campbell House in honour of Mr. L. J. Campbell who has devoted so many years to the guidance of young boys.

Campbell House will consist of the following forms.

- Form 1b Mrs. Oxley
- Form 1a Mrs. Sweetman
- Form 11 Mrs. Wilson

Form 1b consists of two completely separate sections, a Kindergarten group for boys 4-5 years old and a beginners' grade for the 5-6 year group.

We could not let this opportunity pass without saying how sorry we are that the time has come for Mr. Campbell to retire from active school life. We would like to thank him for his sincere interest and understanding during our association at the College and wish him a long, happy retirement.

The Parents' Association under the able guidance of Mrs. T. Collins has had yet another successful year, and we appreciate the interest and co-operation of the members, not only at the monthly meetings but also at our Sports and Speech Day. During the year a donation of £20 from the parents was used towards the cost of a climbing frame for the older boys and we are very grateful for this addition to our equipment.

The committee for the coming year is as follows:

- President: Mrs. H. Williams
- Vice-President: Mrs. M. Barrett.
- Treasurer: Mrs. J. Gray.
- Mesdames Wood, Robb, Vickers-Willis, Thorn, Lucas, Herd and Lees.

Speech Day and the Christmas Party on Monday, December 10th bring our school year to a close.

ASSOCIATION ACTIVITIES

ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting was held on Saturday, 28th July, in the Norman Morrison Hall, under the chairmanship of retiring President, Mr. H. C. Fallaw. Fifty four members attended.

Mr. K. S. Nail was declared elected as incoming President, and the Vice-Presidents elected were Mr. M. T. Wright and Mr. G. W. Ewan. Mr. S. K. Pearson of Melbourne was added to the Committee.

The meeting decided to send greetings to the then oldest living Old Collegian, Mr. T. O. Guthrie.

ANNUAL REUNION DINNER

Following the Annual Meeting, the Annual Reunion Dinner was held at Sladen House, Chilwell.

Guest speaker, Professor Robert Honeycombe ('37), entertained the 119 people present with a memorable address of charm and wit. Incoming President, Mr. K. S. Nail, proposed the toast to "The College", and Mr. P. N. Thwaites responded with a notable address on educational objectives of the school.

The gathering sang two "College songs" and the Eton Boating Song.

MELBOURNE DINNER DANCE

The Stardust Room at the Palais de Danse, St. Kilda, was the delightful venue for the Dinner Dance on 27th July. Ninety couples enjoyed the dancing and novelties, as well as the tasty dinner.

The Melbourne Committee members should be gratified by the obvious success of the function and by the profit earned for the Centenary Building Fund.

REUNION AT HAMILTON

Walter House was the scene on Saturday, 18th August, of an enthusiastic reunion of Old Collegians.

About forty people were present for the function, which took the form of a buffet dinner.

Before the dinner, the Western District Branch of the Old Geelong Collegians Association held its Annual Meeting, at which the following office-bearers were elected:—

President, Mr. J. H. Bromell; Vice-President, Mr. D. Russell; Secretary, Mr. L. Carter; Treasurer, Mr. J. McLarty.

Guests attending the reunion comprised the President of the O.G.C.A. (Mr. K. S. Nail), the Hon. Secretary of the O.G.C.A. (Mr. D. G. Neilson), Mr. J. H. Campbell, and representatives of three other Public Schools. Mr. Russell proposed the toast to "The College", and Air. J. H. Campbell and Mr. D. G. Neilson responded. Mr. K. S. Nail spoke on his recent trip to Canada to take part in the Duke of Edinburgh's Study Conference.

Mr. Bromell announced at the conclusion of the dinner that the members of the Branch had raised sufficient money to make a gift to the College of a racing eight, which—it is hoped—will be ready for use in the 1963 Head of the River.

HORSHAM REUNION

Mr. J. H. Campbell was the guest speaker for the Annual Reunion of the Horsham Branch, held at the Lucarno Hotel, on Saturday 13th. October. Mr. Langham Proud (one of the founders of Apex) proposed the toast to the College. About 35 Old Boys were present.

The President of the Association, Air. K. S. Nail, accompanied Mr. Campbell, and the trip to Horsham through the Grampians brought back vivid memories to "J. H." of the hikes in the forties, when many of the G. & S. soloists sang their way through the hills.

The Club has recently completed the erection of a squash court in its premises.

COLLEGE SONGS

Following a suggestion made at the Annual Reunion of the New South Wales Branch of the O.G.C.A., two "College" songs were sung at the Annual Reunion Dinner in July, led by BERT. KEITH, J. H. CAMPBELL and others, with "TAM." HENDERSON at the piano. The innovation was well received.

The Sydneysiders have produced a new College song, and there is strong feeling amongst a number of Old Boys in favour of the reintroduction of the custom of singing special songs on outstanding occasions at the school and at Old Collegians' functions.

The Committee would welcome expressions of members' opinions on the subject.

CORRECTION

The Editor has been advised that the last issue incorrectly advised that a plaque had been placed in the Beeac Presbyterian Church in memory of its first elder, J. C. Kininmonth ('10). The plaque was in memory of Mr. Kininmonth's father, Mr. J. D. Kininmonth. We regret the error.

GOLF

For many years the College has been well represented at the Public Schools' Old Boys Day in Melbourne which is held on the Tuesday before Melbourne Cup Day in each year.

Our representatives have found it difficult to ascertain those Old Collegians who are golfers, and are anxious to make this a day for all those interested to join in the golfing activities and possibly afterwards at a dinner for Old Collegians.

A separate tournament was held at the Geelong Golf Club early this year for Public School Old Boys in Geelong and surrounding districts and it is intended to repeat this day in Geelong on Wednesday, 24th April next year, after which it is also hoped to arrange a dinner.

Would all Old Collegians interested in golf and/or any get together that might be arranged afterwards, please advise their names and addresses to either of our two representatives on the Public Schools' Golf Committee so that further information might be sent from time to time—a most enjoyable day is assured.

Geelong—Ben Davis, 7 4705.
Melbourne—John Mitchelhill, 62 2421.
